

The proposed rule change will limit the public's access to a wide variety of news sources. All sources will be concentrated in the hands of a few conglomerates. The FCC should be trying to do everything it can to widen the sources not limit them